Chapel of the Emperor's Breath

-An odd chapel deep in the underhive; the interpretation of the Imperial Creed as described by its Priest is unconventional and therefore possibly heretical.

-The architecture of the church is notably odd in its construction and acoustics. The radial symmetry of the ceiling's topography evokes the design favored by the Cinquefoils, indicating a possible connection.

-Ambassador Lethe influenced a hiver to seek out the Church; it is possible that fond rememberence of her could be used as a foothold to learning more about the odd form of the faith in the future.
